

CHALLENGING EXPECTATIONS

DISCUSSION GUIDE

- Before viewing the program(s), what were your assumptions about the state of the education in Minnesota? Do they fit with what is presented in the program?
- After viewing the program(s), what "jumped-out" at you as new information, assumptions or perspectives?
- What in the program was most memorable and why?
- How did the "youth voices" in the program strike you? Did you learn anything different from them than the adults?
- What do you now think is key to making sure Minnesota's education system meets our 21st century needs?
- No program has enough time to tell all the stories, what else would you like to learn about?
- How might you use the stories in this program to help increase student success? Who would you share it with?
- What can "youth" offer in creating positive change that adults might overlook?
- Who should be bringing people together to talk about this issue?
- What do you think most people don't understand — but they should — about education and student success?
- How should we expect schools to change? And what needs to happen outside of schools?
- What gives you the most hope? And what seems the most worrisome?
